Starting October 3rd, join us for The READmarkably Lit PreK and K Early Literacy Institute — an intimate, hands-on training series focused exclusively on PreK and Kindergarten Early Literacy Development.

Unlike a traditional one-day conference, the Institute provides four dedicated learning experiences, each led by a different expert, building a complete picture of how early literacy actually develops and what educators can do to support it — in a small-group setting capped at just 50 seats per session.
